

A group of six young women are hula hooping in a grassy yard. One woman in the foreground is in a dynamic pose, leaning forward with her arms outstretched. The others are standing around her, some also hula hooping. In the background, there is a dark-colored SUV parked on a driveway, and a house with a light-colored exterior and a gabled roof. Large evergreen trees are visible behind the house. The scene is set during the day with bright, natural light.
